

Our workshop leader today spent ten years as a professional musician and a magician.

Then he joined Walt Disney World

Our workshop leader today spent 25 years working as a training leader at Walt Disney World.

In that time, he wrote training for leadership, fireworks, attractions and even how to be Snow White.

Other past clients have included health care, grocery, nuclear power and the United States Government Accountability Office.

He has written several books on learning and speaks frequently at major training conferences.

Combining his Disney and entertainment experience, Lenn will show you how to keep your audience awake so your message can take.

Please join me in welcoming the Learner-tain-ment® Trainer, Lenn Mill-bow-er.